

What's the next big ice cream flavor?
By MIRIAM BOWERS ABBOTT

Published: Thursday, July 24, 2008 5:37 PM EDT

serving those who serve

Operation Open Arms has hit Central Ohio. The program is designed to enhance the R&R experience for active military personnel on temporary leave from service in other lands. Local businesses support the program by offering discounts and freebies to the service members.

No surprise: Some of the first joints to sign up are restaurants. Brazenhead, Buck Mulligan's (in Gahanna), Tucci's and Oscar's (both in Dublin) are all on board with free meals for personnel who are on leave.

To get involved or to learn more about the program, investigate operationopenarmsohio.com.